Global Citizenship Summer School
International Affairs

LECTURE 1 - DEVELOPMENT AND ENVIRONMENT PROTECTION IN BRAZIL
This lecture focuses on the core principles and conventions established by international environmental law as well as Brazilian Environmental Law. The lecture aims to introduce students to current Environmental Case Law in Brazil and explore the main environmental risks of doing business according to internal regulations in Brazil.

CONTENTS:

Brazilian Environmental Law System.

COMPETENCES
To be aware of the contemporary issues concerning environmental protection in Brazil.

To evaluate the legal efficiency and management of risks in Brazil.

BIBLIOGRAPHY

RESUMÉ: Professor Delton Winter de Carvalho is currently professor of the graduate law program at Unisinos University. Professor Carvalho has expertise in environmental law, especially including the following subjects: environmental law theory, environmental disasters, environmental responsibility, among others. He holds a BA, Master and Ph.D degree in Law (UNISINOS) and Environmental Law (UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, BERKELEY)

LECTURE 2 - AGROBUSINESS IN BRAZIL
This lecture will bring an overview of Agrobusiness in Brazil, its main figures and numbers, opportunities and risks, with an analysis under the foreign perspective, including legal restrictions to foreign activities in this field.

Contents
- Agrobusiness in Brazil: an overview in numbers;
- Opportunities and risks;
- Legal restrictions to foreign activities.

Competencies
- to comprehend the main characteristics of the Brazilian Agrobusiness;
- to analyze the main opportunities and risks of agrobusiness in Brazil under the foreign perspective;
- to analyze the legal restrictions to foreign companies in Agrobusiness;

METHODOLOGIES, TECHNIQUES AND RESOURCES FOR TEACHING AND LEARNING
Aiming the achievement of the competences, different methodologies and techniques will be adopted in order to actively involve the student in the learning process. Among these methodologies and techniques are explanatory and interactive classes, group debates and discussions.

Bibliography

..........................................

2

Resumé: Prof. Fabrizio Camerini is currently the Chief Legal Manager for Yara Brasil Fertilizantes, the Brazilian Branch of Yara International, the world’s leading fertilizer industry based in Oslo, Norway. Fabrizio Camerini is also Unisinos Law School Professor (Tax Law and International Law) and International Economic Law Professor at ESMAFE (High Level School for Federal Judges). Former experience involves Tax and Business leading Attorney at Camerini Law Firm, Professor at the Civil Procedure Graduate Program at PUC-RS (Pontifícia Universidade Católica do Rio Grande do Sul). Fabrizio Camerini holds a Specialist Degree in International Law and a Master Degree in Law from UFRGS (Universidade Federal do Rio Grande do Sul).

LECTURE 3 - CHALLENGES AND OPPORTUNITIES TO ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT IN BRAZIL

The lecture aims to present, briefly, the economic formation of Brazil, exploring its roots and peculiarities; the present situation of the Brazilian economy, focusing on its challenges and opportunities and will propose, at the end, an exchange of ideas among the students in order to make them build some future scenarios for Brazil, considering a comparative approach to BRICS.

CONTENTS

Economic Formation of the Brazilian Economy;
An overview on the Brazilian Economy;
The role of Brazil in the international scenario (a comparative analysis on BRICS).

COMPETENCES

To comprehend the main characteristics of the Brazilian Economy and its peculiarities;
To detect the present role of Brazil in the international scene, considering BRICS’ cooperation.

METHODOLOGIES, TECHNIQUES AND RESOURCES FOR TEACHING AND LEARNING

Aiming the achievement of the competences, different methodologies and techniques will be adopted in order to actively involve the student in the learning process. Among these methodologies and techniques are explanatory and interactive classes, group debates and discussions.

BIBLIOGRAPHY

-----------------------------

Resume: Professor Alvaro Augusto Paes Leme at the present moment works at the Regional Office of the Ministry of External Affairs and has experience in both private sector (Renner Investment Bank and GKN Brazil) and public sector (State Secretary of Development and International Affairs). Is a Professor in the UNISINOS BA Program in International Relations and at the Economy Program. He has a BA Degree in Economy from UFRGS and a Master in International Relations (UFRGS). He is a specialist in MERCOSUR and Regional Integration (UFRGS);

LECTURE 4 – MIGRATION IN BRAZIL
Considering migration as one of the most important phenomena of a globalized world and the increasing number of immigrants in Brazil, this lecture aims to present the main challenges Brazil is facing towards the construction of a National policy to comply with the international regime in this area.

CONTENTS
International Regimes, Migration and Refugees’ Protection.
Migrants and Refugees’ Protection in Brazil
Migration Policies in Brazil

COMPETENCES
To be aware of the contemporary issues concerning human rights, migration and refugees’ protection in Brazil.

To detect viable alternatives to improve the practice of International Relations towards the protection of human and vulnerable groups.

To evaluate the political and legal efficiency of organizations for the protection of migrants, nationally, regionally and internationally, as a way to consolidate human rights.

METHODOLOGIES, TECHNIQUES AND RESOURCES FOR TEACHING AND LEARNING

Aiming the achievement of the competences, different methodologies and techniques will be adopted in order to actively involve the student in the learning process. Among these methodologies and techniques are explanatory and interactive classes, individual and collective works as well as debates.

BIBLIOGRAPHY
--------------------------------

Resumé: Gabriela Mezzanotti is currently the Coordinator of the International Relations BA Program at Unisinos. She is also the co-chair, with Professor Inácio Helfer, of the UNHCR’ Sergio Vieira de Mello Chair at Unisinos. From 1998-2008 she was the leading Counselor for the International Law Department at Camerini Law Firm, being responsible for the international Business Law Practice at the firm. From 2000 to the present day she teaches International Law, IHL and International Protection of Human Rights at Unisinos. From 2009 to the present day she teaches at ESMAFE (High Level School for Federal Judges). She has written several books and articles on Human Rights, IHL, International Criminal Justice and Terrorism. She holds a BA Degree in Law (UNISINOS), a Master in Law (UFRGS), and is a PhD Candidate on Social Sciences (UNISINOS).